Great home in Paso

★★★★★ 5 of 5

Nicely equipped, very clean and good location. We loved using the BBQ and hanging out in the backyard in the evenings, very peaceful. Very happy with the experience, thanks for having us.

Nice home that needs some TLC

★★★★★ 3 of 5

We have been to Paso Robles many (15+) times and have rented many single family homes. Our regular places were not available so we booked this place for 4 nights.

The positives:

- 1) The home is on a quiet street.
- 2) Big living area. The living room is connected to the dining room. The kitchen is open to the dining area so it provides for a nice big open social area.
- 3) Nice gas fireplace. One night was cold and we turned it on to test it. But mostly used the heater.
- 4) Heating and AC worked well - yes, we needed both. It was one of those weeks.

5) Nice functioning kitchen with an operational coffee machine! The gas stove needed one of those handheld lighters (stored in a drawer) to light up.

Some issues:

- 1) Although on a quiet street, you can hear car/motorcycle/big rig noises from inside the house. The back of the house faces a busy highway.
- 2) In the master bedroom, the bedroom carpet was DUCT TAPED to the bathroom floor. This was a 30- by 4-inch area.
- 3) A 12-14-inch rubber strip under the bathroom door was damaged and left hanging under the door.
- 4) A huge piece (like 3-ft long) of wall paper peeled off the wall and was left hanging on the wall.
- 5) The mattresses are not modern. The queen mattress is smaller than the modern queen sizes and it has metal coils inside. When you get on the bed, you can hear squeaking noises every time you move.

Overall, it was not a horrible experience. But I am surprised that the owners rented out the home in its current condition - even at a lower end hotel room, I have never seen carpet that has been duct taped. I was so concerned about the owners blaming (and billing) me for the defects that I immediately took pictures of them as evidence and mailed them to the rental agency.

Eclectic home, a bit dated but fine. Close to downtown Paso.

★★★★☆ 3 of 5

This home has a nice back yard and would probably be good for a vacationing family. The decor is quite unusual and the amenities sparse for the price. When I booked this property I was directed to a different website "URelax vacation rentals" that seemed to have a lot of fees. The price ended up being considerably higher than what was displayed on VRBO. I will watch for that in the future and avoid it.

Owner's Response: Hi Theresa - you did actually book through VRBO and not our direct website, so you paid the normal fees that are listed there. The fees which include cleaning fee and tax are the same on both sites, sometimes people do not look at the rate and fee section causing confusion. Thanks for staying with us.

Very clean and convenient location

★★★★★ 5 of 5

Loved this house. Directions and pre-stay instructions were very good. Loved the ease of check-in and cleanliness of the place. The only drawback was that we could not stay longer and enjoy the great patio area for parties and guests.!! Very nice for access to wineries in the area.! Would stay here again!

Great house in Paso Robles

★★★★★ 5 of 5

This was a great house to rent. Very close to downtown Paso Robles. Lock box with house keys was easy to find and open with the code. The house was super clean and everything we needed and wanted were there. The backyard was huge with lots of sitting areas. My stay, and my friends, was great. I will totally stay in this house again 😊.

Great place to stay.

★★★★★ 5 of 5

Very nice place. Five of us went to Paso Robles for a horsing event and the place was perfect. Because it would be great for wine tasting or tourist. Great backyard with a nice view. I would come again definitely.

Fantastic Paso Home

★★★★★ 5 of 5

We were so pleased with this home, it was very clean and we had a great vacation. The home has a great outdoor space with BBQ and lots of seating, we spent a lot of time hanging out there. The kitchen was very nice and well stocked with pots, pans and dishes. Very good experience. Access was really easy everything was so smooth. I thought the price was very reasonable compared to other properties and it's only about a half mile to downtown. Thanks for letting us share!

Great Home in Paso

★★★★★ 5 of 5

We stayed for a long weekend in this great home, our group was very happy. The home is very well stocked and has nice clean furniture. The home condition was very clean and well presented. We absolutely loved the back yard of this home, we did BBQs every night and ate outside at the dining table. There's also a great seating area to hang out, relax and enjoy all that fantastic Paso wine. The whole home felt very private and relaxing, I'm so happy we picked this spot. Securing the home and getting in was very easy, no hassles. The home is fairly close to downtown also. I would definitely come back to stay here again it was one of our best rental experiences yet.
